--At the time of making this patent application, it is preferred that the original 1st of exchange be a paper (or equivalent) document bearing the original or actual signature of the buyer and preferably also of the seller. Such an originally signed paper 1st of exchange is desirable to fulfil the requirements of the League of Nations 1930-31 convention. Article 1 of the League of Nations 1930-31 convention defines a bill of exchange as follows:

a1
cont "A bill of exchange contains:

1. The term 'bill of exchange' inserted in the body of the instrument and expressed in the language employed in drawing up the instrument;
2. An unconditional order to pay a determinate sum of money;
3. The name of the person who is to pay (drawee);
4. A statement of the time of payment;
5. A statement of the place where payment is to be made;
6. The name of the person to whom or to whose order payment is to be made;
7. A statement of the date and of the place where the bill is issued;

8. The signature of the person who issues the bill (drawer)."

As used herein the term "bill of exchange" means a bill of exchange as defined in Article 1 of the League of Nations convention 1930-31.

However, as explained elsewhere herein, adoption of subsequent international agreements, such as the UNCITRAL convention may enable these requirements to be met electronically in the future and the term "bill of exchange" is of course intended to include such adaptations to the League of Nations definition as may be appropriate for electronic commerce. Features such as electronic authentication, optionally verified by a digital certificate, effected by personal data identifying the buyer, such as thumb print or iris image data, or other electronically signature, may facilitate the use of electronic rather than paper documents, and the invention includes such variations.--
